FORMER TAOYUAN AIR BASE FACILITIES

Iron Wing Glory- The Legend of the Former Taoyuan Air Base

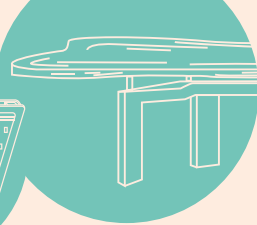

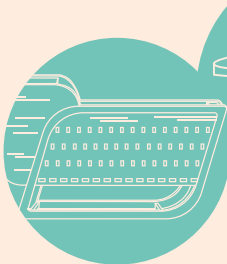

Taoyuan City's rated historical site, the Former Taoyuan Air Base Facilities, is one of the retired military facilities that have been completely preserved. This serial event includes exhibition, film, theme songs to allow the public to get to know the history of the Base, reexamine local memories, and connect to world history. With historical axis and buildings, the profile of the Base is presented by themes including "History of the Base," "American Style at the Base" and "Heroes behind Heroes." Additionally, scenario experiences are provided via AR interactive digital, dark room scene, and detective photo collections. In the end, life in a military village is showcased to shed light on future perspectives towards the Base.

The 2020 Taoyuan Iron Rose Arts Festival: Dream Catcher

To celebrate the reopening of the Taoyuan Arts Center, we present "Dream Catcher", by three international artists all with deep connection with Taoyuan. Their performances draw inspiration from songs by the legendary singer, Fong Fei Fei, who was also from Taoyuan. The three artists are PeiJu Chien-Pott, a New York-based Taiwanese dancer artist/choreographer originally from Taoyuan; Yu Yen-Fang, an internationally acclaimed independent choreographer also from Taoyuan; and Larysa Bakurova, a model and rhythmic gymnastics promoter who has been developing close ties with Taoyuan in recent years. Notably, Chien-Pott is described as "one of the greatest living modern dancers". The performances by these three well-renowned female artists represent of creative diversity for audiences.

2020 Vocal Festival in Taoyuan

Sound and music transcend boundaries. With the rising of the Internet, people can get together without "physically being together." Global chorus and a cappella bands have made use of the Internet to practice or even showcase their works. The "2020 Vocal Festival in Taoyuan" meets the international trend and links to the Internet Technology to formally plan its online music events. How shall "vocal" be presented in technology and with the restrictions of the pandemic, how vocal can be "gathered" is an innovative and interesting issue in this Festival. This Festival will utilize the Internet and innovative software that the public is familiar with to present a very different arts festival. The "2020 Vocal Festival in Taoyuan" will be formally launched on YouTube on July 3rd.

🕒 Formal Launch since 07/03(Fri.)
