Calligrapher Chi-Shan Chen treats each of his work like it was a painting or a song. He puts on nuanced details to the shape and thickness of the strokes, balances layers within the composition, and adds rhythms to the works. Chen's creation shows the full potential of improvising strokes and composition. The appropriate overlaps between words also expose to view the aesthetics unique to the highly cursive script in Chinese calligraphy.

THE EXHIBITION OF ART PASSING DOWN: SOLO EXHIBITION OF PAINTER CHUN-CHING CHEN

Specializing in Western painting, Chun-Ching Chen centers his works around daily scenarios he sees. A dark alley in Paris's winter, blooming ginger lilies, a fishing port where boats find shelter, tranquil country villages are all topics of his representations. A thing commonly seen in his works is his subtle treatment of color to reveal different layers of water and sky. In those delicately captured changes of light and the clear blue, we feel as if we could see the passing of time. On display are select works from Chen's career of over thirty years and new items he particularly made for this exhibition. Ranging from paintings to mixed media, these works collectively reveal to the audience the exquisite life of an artist.
